TITAN HEALTH CORPORATION LAUNCHES NATIONAL FOCUS ON ORTHOPEDICS WITH ITS MOST ADVANCED ORTHOPEDIC SURGERY CENTER TO DATE

Company partners with surgeons using specialized approach to produce excellent clinical results for patients, reduce costs, and allow orthopedists to perform a larger volume of cases with greater efficiency

LAKEWOOD, NEW JERSEY (August, 2005)—Leading the trend for surgeons to have majority ownership in their own surgery centers, Titan Health Corporation is pleased to announce the recent opening of Lakewood Surgery Center in Lakewood, New Jersey. The center opened in July with a focus on orthopedic and pain management services; the first patient was seen on Wednesday, July 13th. Lakewood Surgery Center is a DeNovo project housed in a 10,000 square-foot, newly constructed two-story building. The center includes two ORs, pre- and post-operative recovery space and highly specialized equipment.

“I’ve been impressed with the skill, caring and work ethic of the Titan Team,” said Dr. Charlie Rizzo, the center’s Medical Director. “We love our facility and actually picked the equipment and instrumentation ourselves.”

The center will perform advanced orthopedic and spine surgeries as well as interventional pain management procedures. Lakewood Surgery Center is Titan’s first ASC partnership in the New Jersey area.

“We’re extremely happy with the way our facility turned out and with our choice to partner with an experienced, specialty focused company like Titan,” said Dr. Rizzo. “Our focus on orthopedics and pain management will assist us in providing high quality patient care as well as more efficient service. Both of these are important to us since, as physicians, patient satisfaction is one of our top priorities.”

PRESS RELEASE

“Titan Health is currently in discussions with several surgeon groups throughout the country,” said Marc Jang, Titan’s Chief Executive Officer. “Our goal as an organization is to give control over patient care back to our surgeon partners by supporting their decision to own their own surgical facility. We handle the difficult business side of healthcare so they have the freedom to focus on their surgical practice.”

Titan Health Corporation is a specialty focused surgery center development and management company based out of Sacramento, California that specializes in orthopedics, neuro/spine and pain management. The company currently has partnerships in Oregon, Colorado, California and New Jersey, as well as partnerships under development and/or construction in Tennessee, Michigan, Texas, Pennsylvania and Maryland.
